What IS Feng Shui?

You unknowingly project limitations into your space —
creating blocks, burdens and baggage throughout your life.

Negative Beliefs = *A Space that Drags You Down!

When you finally learn these success secrets,
your home will start to reflect your greatest potential
—feeding you new possibilities and shifting long-held beliefs.

A Space for Success = *A Positive, Empowered YOU!

Cleaning Overview

Make sure to review this list of most-avoided hot-spots:

- Baseboards
- Around sink fixtures (bath and kitchen)
- Trim around shower stalls, caulking, etc.
- Inside and outside of stove & microwave
- Inside and outside of fridge
- Walls
- Fronts of cabinets
- Behind the toilet
- Inside cupboards
- Inside drawers
- Inside closets
- Inside handbags and purses
- Underneath furniture
- Corners
- Behind objects
- Around, behind and under books
- On top of tall furniture
- Around and on top of picture frames
- Any and all glass and reflective surfaces
- Around, behind and under electronic equipment
- Appliances, and the areas around and underneath them

What else can you add to this list? What are you noticing?

Clearing Checklist:

Write down 1 item that is hard for you to part with:

---

Then answer the following “magic” questions:

1. Do I NEED this?
2. Do I LOVE this?
3. Does it lift my energy up?
4. Does it reflect the “future me”?
5. Am I caring for it or storing it well?
6. Is it in good repair/condition?
7. Do I have room for it?
8. Would my life be lighter without it?
9. Is it adding to my clutter or burden?

Yes No

Quality Checklist:

Here are just a few ways that you can boost the Wealth-Chi in your environment.

ITEMS WITH IMMENSE “WEALTH-CHI”

- Expensive objects
- 1-of-a-kind items
- Original artwork, sculpture or craftsmanship
- Objects from nature
- Stones and gems
- Well-made furniture, artwork or any other items of high quality
- Items that are extremely meaningful, well-cared for and clean
- Waterfalls, fish-tanks and water features
- Images of successful people you admire
- Beautiful antiques or any object with a rich, happy history
- Luxurious fabrics like linen, silk, velvet, dupione, valuable tapestries, etc.
- Items that reflect great accomplishments like awards, diplomas, etc.
- Images of objects that you desire

From the lists above, what are you noticing?

---

---

---

What are you inspired to add or change in your space?

---

---

If you were to ONLY consider 1 change to your office, which shift do you think would be the most important, and give you the biggest bang for your buck?

Imagery Checklist

Here are just a few ways that you can boost the power of the imagery in your home:

IMAGERY (artwork, photography, sculpture, etc.):

- Artwork or photography of people feeling abundant and/or confident
- Extremely valuable, 1-of-a-kind or famous artwork
- Images of things you desire
- Images of people standing in their power
- Images of wealthy and/or successful people
- Images that boost your energy
- Images that cause you to become more inspired or confident
- Images that reflect who you wish to be, or how you would like to feel, in the future
- Symbols that reflect or remind you of anything important to your purpose, career, etc.
- Objects that remind you of a mentor, teacher or hero
- Images or arrangements that help you feel more capable, organized or focused
- Large, bold images that evoke a feeling of power
- Collections arranged together to form 1 large, powerful, focused arrangement
- Images that reminds you of your faith in Source, your abilities, your talents or your future

From the lists above, what are you noticing?

This is a great layout, with the desk facing the doorway, but out of the harsh pathway of the entrance. There is plenty of space in front and behind the desk, so it's not cramped. Anyone sitting in this position should feel quite empowered!

This is another fabulous layout, with the desk still facing the entrance, out of the door's flow of energy, allowing an empowering view of the room. No one can sneak up on you in this position, and the angled desk adds some design zip!

Here's another nice solution. This desk is still in a position that it's easy to see the door. Even though it's not directly in front of you, you can still see easily out of the corner of your eye. You also remain out of the line of the doorway's energy.

This is a nice solution, similar to the empowering position of the first 3 layouts. But the only drawback is by facing the wall, which can make you feel cramped and less-expansive. Using a mirror here can make you feel much more spacious!

This is also a great solution when you simply can't face the doorway. The green area represents a wall mirror or reflective surface so you can easily see behind you. Also notice this still keeps you out of the direct path of the door.

This is similar to the last layout to show another option when you can't face the door. Note the use of reflective surfaces so you can feel empowered by seeing behind you. Also notice this still keeps you out of the direct path of the door.

This is a good solution when you simply can't get out of the path of the door. Placing a large object, such as a plant, bookshelf or screen can help to slow down the fast-moving energy from the door and help you feel focused and safe.

Here's a solution when you just can't face, or get out of the path of the door. Try using a reflective surface, as in the other examples. Consider adding something supportive and protective behind you. Even a sweater over the chair can work!

Office Checklist:

Here are just a few ways that you can boost the energy in your office:

OFFICE:

- Your desk has a clear view of the entrance (without being directly in line with the door)
- You have a solid wall behind you and you face out into the expanse of the room
- Your decor is clear, simple and focused
- The room holds ONLY confident artwork
- You look at inspiring symbolism from your desk
- The desk is clean, and clear of most all objects
- You follow the 50-50 Rule (at least 50% of the time), allowing space to grow
- Comfortable, ergonomically-aligned chair
- Your office contains at least 1 fresh flower or plant
- Your furniture and supplies are arranged for ease of use
- The objects in the room are reflective of your accomplishments and goals
- Your file folders are labeled and alphabetized
- All office supplies are stored in their own "home" in a beautiful container or unique spot.

From the lists above, what are you noticing?

Money Checklist:

Here are just a few ways to enhance how you use and treat money, bills, etc.

MONEY:

- Your purse, bags, briefcases and totes are organized
- Your wallet or pocketbook is beautiful, inspiring and tactile
- Your change, credit cards and bills are all neatly organized
- Your checks are beautiful, and are stored in a special container or box
- Your stamps for paying bills are gorgeous and uplifting
- The pen you use to sign your checks makes you feel "rich"
- The envelopes you use to pay bills or invoices are of high quality, colorful or personalized
- Your calculator is easy-to-use, clean and elegant
- Your receipts are neatly organized in labeled containers, folders or hanging files
- Your bill-paying supplies are easily accessible
- You keep extra change or found "magic money" in a lovely container
- You keep your money records, learning, notes and tracking in their own stunning binder

From the lists above, what are you noticing?

Technology Checklist:

Check the items below that need some TLC this coming year:

TECHNOLOGY / COMPUTER:

- Email organization
- Having an empty email in-box
- Keeping clear, organized tax records, receipts and logs throughout the year
- Keeping your computer desktop neat, clear and orderly
- Keeping your computer files consistently labeled and neatly organized and grouped
- Making regular back-ups of your computer files
- Keeping your bookmarked websites/URL's neatly organized
- Keeping your audio MP3 files neatly organized
- Keeping your tasks digitally organized so they are easy to review, organize and implement

Entryway Checklist

Here are just a few ways that you can boost the energy in your entryway:

ENTRYWAY:

- Bright, well-lit
- Clean
- Clutter-free
- No furniture blocking the walkway
- Door fully opens
- Objects in good repair
- Inspiring art/sculpture
- Uplifting colors
- Freshness – flowers, water, fruit bowl, etc.
- Something friendly as greeter: figure/sculpture, bowl of treats, etc.
- Safe - nothing to trip on
- Opens into the feeling of an expansive space
- You can easily see your House or Apartment number as people drive by or enter
- Your front door stands out, and is easily to view from the road

Room-by-Room Checklist

Focus on only 1 room at a time. Select where you'll start, and write that room below:

Ideal Scenario:

- Clean
- Visually Quiet
- Fresh Energy
- Inspiring Imagery
- Uplifting Color
- Empowered Layout
- Safe
- Comfortable
- Great Lighting
- All Items Reflect the "Future You"
